And w at s more, I ain t goin to stan nuffin more ob de kind! So, dar! --Speaking of the lecturer the other evening, Dicast, of 74, says, that a man who can turn from the solemn contemplation of the heavenly bodies, with a sense of awe and reverence for the force and extent of the laws of nature full upon him, and part his hair in the middle, .--In the Greek class, the other day, the tutor made the astounding revelation that the Abantes wore their hair on top of their heads! This was very much of a surprise to the boys, who had been working up their essays with the idea that the Abantes wore their hair on the back of their necks.--Freshy went home to spend the holidays. At the Christinas dinner he greeted all his aunts, uncles, and venerable relatives with this pious ejaculation: Ye scraggy spooks, I m with ye once again! Behold the advantages of a classical education.--If any one believes in total depravity--in original sin, believes that hollowness and utter deception fill the world, if he would regenerate his ideas, build up his conception of humanity anew, he has but to watch closely and confidingly the little band of sophomores,...
