They re mostly Muslims - they ll hate you! was thedire warning given to the author before she embarkedupon the adventure that would change her life. Timedisproved that and many other negative predictions.In this world of East Versus West or Christian Versus Muslim mentalities, the real life experiences of ESL (English as a Second Language)teacher Alice Crocker disprove much of what many people expect whenthey become full time residents in a country, culture, or even religiousenvironment that is not their own. She learned one of her most valuablelife lessons, Be yourself and let who you are speak to those you areconnecting with. With endearing, earthy wit, infinite delight in herexperiences - even the highly embarrassing ones - and most of all deep, abiding love and respect, Alice s true stories prove that friendship knowsno bounds and that being a fish out of water can be the most humbling, instructional, and meaningful life experience of all.These stories, all true, will encourage readers to fully entrust their livesto God, because a joyous adventure awaits, and will open their hearts topeople who are foreign, causing them to see individuals, not stereotypes.Because in the scope of creation and journeying through this temporaryworld with all its joy and promise, struggle and uncertainty, Alice and herbeloved Indonesian friends and students prove that we are all in this together.
